

THE MASTERS

COLUMBIA, USA

5TH - 11TH APRIL 2027

Be there for sport's greatest moments.

WELCOME TO THE MASTERS EXPERIENCE

Every second week of April, Augusta National opens its gates for The Masters, arguably the most exclusive and eagerly anticipated golfing event of the year.

Since its founder Bobby Jones held the very first Augusta National Invitational Tournament in 1934, The Masters has had a special place in the hearts of all golf fans and enthusiasts alike.

The springtime splendour of Augusta National never disappoints and probably never will. With such iconic moments in golfing history as Nicklaus's charge in 1986, Faldo's comeback in 1996 and Tiger's chip-in in 2005, Augusta has an atmosphere and aura like no other place on earth. We think it's only fitting that you get to sample that for yourself.

A GOLF TOURNAMENT LIKE NO OTHER STEEPED IN TRADITION

Each year, in the second week of April, Augusta National opens its gates for arguably the most exclusive and eagerly anticipated golfing event of the year, The Masters.

Since its founder Bobby Jones held the very first “Augusta National Invitation Tournament” in 1934, The Masters has had a special place in the hearts of all golf fans and enthusiasts alike.

The spring-time splendour of Augusta National never disappoints and to be honest, probably never will. With such iconic moments in golfing history as Nicklaus’s charge in ’86, Faldo’s comeback in ’96 and Tiger’s chip-in in 2005, Augusta has an atmosphere and aura like no other place on earth. We think it’s only fitting that you get to sample that for yourself.

FRIDAY 9TH APRIL

Today is arguably the most anticipated day in your golfing calendar as you lay eyes on Augusta National for the first time. We will leave early for Augusta to ensure you don't miss any of the action. Breakfast will be available at the hotel from 06.00 and we will leave for Augusta at 06.45, with the first tee time again being at 08.00, we will arrive in plenty of time for you to make your way out onto the course and be in position to see the early starters.

With the much sought after Masters Badge in your possession, the gates of Augusta National await and what will surely be one of the greatest golfing days in the year. We will depart Augusta for the hotel 30 minutes after the completion of the days play. Once back in Columbia please ask for restaurant recommendations.

SATURDAY 10TH APRIL

We have a more leisurely start to the day today, breakfast will be available all morning at the hotel before 10.00 transfer to Woodcreek Golf Club, arguably the best members' course in the area Woodcreek is the perfect location for our final round of the week. Again combining the tall pines, large lakes and slick greens that you'll have become accustomed to, the course also boasts some stunning views. Return transfers to the hotel will be at 17.00 ensuring you're back in time to see the leaders complete the back 9 at Augusta. The rest of the evening is at your leisure.

SUNDAY 11TH APRIL

Today is a day like no other, there's an old adage that The Masters starts on the back nine on Sunday and with a back nine like Augusta National it's easy to see why. We will be leaving the Marriott at 07.00 this morning.

The first tee time today will be around 10.30 with the leaders teeing off at 15.00. Be sure to make time to stop by The Masters shop for the all important gifts, this really is golf shopping like you've never seen before. We will be departing from the Executive Club approximately 30 minutes after the presentation of the Green Jacket. On our return to Columbia there will be plenty of time for celebratory drinks and a chance to relive your favourite memories from the week.

MONDAY 12TH APRIL

Following a busy week, you have the morning at your leisure and breakfast at the hotel before check out and depart for home. We hope to see you again in 2028!

SPECTATING AT AUGUSTA NATIONAL

Nothing quite prepares you for your first moments at the Augusta National.

Yes you might be prepared for the beauty, to witness the golfing test and see the world's best players ply their trade but the scale and undulations of the place are unimaginable until you actually arrive on the property.

Television can never quite capture the flow of the course, the rapid descent of the tenth and eleventh holes to the sunken golfing paradise that is Amen Corner and the draining climb back up to the eighteenth green. The place is unique. No one runs - top speed for all is a brisk walk. Spectators create their own grandstands by placing their portable seats at a vantage point of their choice and no one is allowed to carry a mobile phone.

Spectator views are the most unfettered in the professional game because players, their caddies and a few rules officials are the only people allowed inside the ropes.

It feels busy, especially in the merchandise area which is the only place on the planet official Masters products can be bought, but it retains a quaint feel in keeping with Georgia's southern charm.

And, although it is undoubtedly golf's most glamorous major, the on course sustenance including Augusta's famous Pimento cheese sandwiches are probably the most reasonably priced refreshments in world sport.

ETIQUETTE The Masters Tournament is an international competition and the contestants are considered invited guests. Everyone should be treated with courtesy and respect. Patrons are expected to behave with the utmost dignity and considerations at all times. There are several rules of spectator etiquette that should be followed when attending a golf tournament:

- Stay behind all ropes and cooperate with the designated officials of the tournament
- Remain still throughout each shot, and do not move until all players in the group have completed the hole
- Do not run
- Place all trash in the proper receptacles
- Any excessive noise or shouting will not be tolerated and may result in dismissal

INSIDER INFORMATION! There is a check station just inside the main gate at Augusta National but be prepared to wait in long lines to pick up your checked items!

EXPLORE THIS VIBRANT CITY

COLUMBIA INFORMATION

Columbia is the state capital and largest city in the US state of South Carolina. We keep coming back to Columbia as our main base during Masters week due to its diverse creative culture that can satisfy any appetite.

CLIMATE

Columbia is famously hot with 300 days of sunshine on average a year. Through the day during April, highs can be in the 80's and lows around the mid 50's. At night, plan on light breezes and more comfortable temperatures.

SOUTH CAROLINA GAMECOCKS BASEBALL TEAM

The University of South Carolina boasts some of the South's most loyal and determined fans, and recently they have had lots to cheer about.

The South Carolina Gamecocks Baseball team won the national title in both 2010 and 2011. The season gets underway in February through to July. If there's a game on during your tour, why not join some of the staff and cheer on the Gamecocks?

RESTAURANTS

A full restaurant guide will be available upon arriving at the hotel, this will guide you through the diverse options available within Columbia. Unlike many US Towns, the restaurants are all with walking distance, usually located along Gervais Street, which is a 10 minute walk from the hotel. Simply turn left out of the hotel onto Main Street, which will take you to Gervais Street - take a right and you'll be in the heart of the main stretch of restaurants.

BARBECUE

The Columbia region is known for its many barbecue restaurants. Pulled pork is typically the signature barbecue dish; most of the barbecue restaurants offer fried chicken, savoury casseroles and vegetables. Many restaurants provide community tables, so you can mingle with the locals while sharing a pitcher of sweet tea - sorry, a BEER!

VIEWING SPOTS

SUGGESTED VIEWING SPOTS

(please see course guide for more details)

Hole 4: Spectators can view action on two holes while behind the No. 4 tee. There are views of the approach to the No. 3 green and the tee shot on the par-3 No. 4.

Hole 7: Behind the green, spectators can see down the No. 2 and No. 3 fairways, the No. 7 green, the No. 8 tee and the No. 17 fairway.

Hole 12: In the heart of Amen Corner, spectators behind the tee can see the approach shots to No. 11, the entire 12th hole, and tee shots and second shots on the par-5 No. 13.

Hole 16: A new viewing area (above) was created here thanks to a storm in July 2006 that took down several trees. The natural seating area allows patrons to see the green at Nos. 6, 15 and 16 and the tee shot at No. 17.

Hole 18: If you get a spot early behind the No. 18 green, you can see approach shots to the final green and have a view of several other holes.

Practice Facility:

You can watch as golfers prepare for their round.

TIPS FROM THE VETERANS

TAKE A STAND:

The observation stands are great places to take in a lot of different holes. The ones at Amen Corner and around the 15th green/16th tee fill up quickly. Try the one behind the No. 8 green; you can see most of No. 8, the No. 9 tee and the first green.

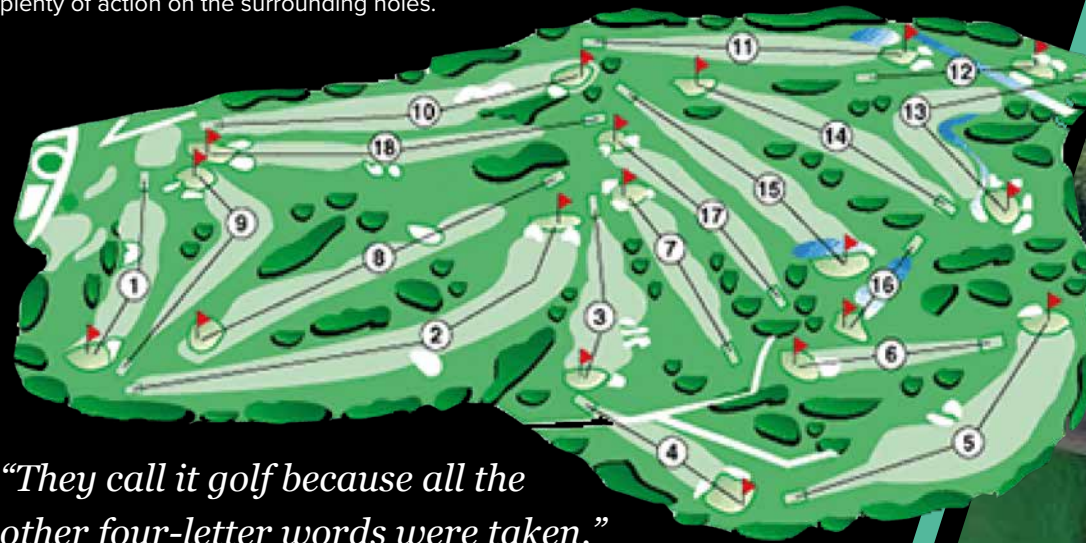

SEEK THE HIGH GROUND:

Some credit Augusta National as being among golf's first "stadium" courses because of the hilly terrain. A lot of the natural slopes offer prime viewing perches. The area behind the seventh green lets you take in plenty of action on the surrounding holes.

GET OFF THE BEATEN PATH:

Because of their distance from the main entrance, Nos. 4 and 5 require some effort to reach. The hike is worth it. There are fewer patrons entering the gate near the fifth green, but concessions, restrooms and souvenirs are all a short distance away.
